

AfriNIC is pleased to invite you to attend the AfriNIC-12 Public Policy Meeting that is being held jointly with AfNOG where leading Internet industry presenters discuss the latest developments in global best practice for managing your Internet resources and how it affects the African region. Most importantly, the meetings are your opportunity to contribute to the policy development process.

Who should attend?

AfriNIC meetings are open to anyone. They are particularly relevant to members, ISPs, the Internet community, academia, governments and regulators.

Why should you or your employee go to AfriNIC-12 ?

- Have your say on policy proposals that may directly affect the way your organization accesses Internet number resources, or you can present your own proposals;
- Hear world-class speakers discuss cutting-edge Internet resource management research;

- Learn about best practice in Internet resource management to make your business more efficient; and,
- Make valuable contacts for building business relationships.
