IPv6 in Africa hour

What are the biggest hurdles for a service provider to deploy IPv6 in Africa???

AfriNIC

IPv6 in Africa hour

Mon Jun 06 18:37:23 2011

       CC:

   Subject: IPV6 TEST

     Date: Mon, 6 Jun 2011 15:35:29 +0100

       To: <contact@afrinic.net>, <hostmaster@afrinic.net>, <afrinic-discuss@afrinic.net>

   From:

Dear Afrinic,

There are quite a lot of rumors on the internet regarding an IPv6 test scheduled for 8th June, 2011. And that this test will cause interruption on the existing IPv4 network.

We therefore need you to confirm this exercise is going to take place as scheduled and communicate the impact of this test on the existing IPv4 network.

IPv6 in Africa hour

Q1) Please Introduce yourself

- Name
- Affiliation
- Service Provided type
- Network size (small, medium, large)

IPv6 in Africa hour

Q2) Why did you implement IPv6??
And what are its advantages over IPv4??? ☺

Kidding!!!!!

AfriNIC

IPv6 in Africa hour

Q2') How much ……… did it take to implement IPv6 on your network??
- Time (Planning & implementing)
- Upgrades (Hardware & firmware)
- Cost
- Resources dedicated (Human / other)

IPv6 in Africa hour

Q3) Were there any unexpected surprises along the road?? (Good or Bad)

AfriNIC

IPv6 in Africa hour

Q4) Where does a service provider interested in deploying IPv6 start??

IPv6 in Africa hour

Questions from the audience

AfriNIC

Thank You